

AIRMAN HERITAGE FOUNDATION 2022 ANNUAL REPORT

Supporting the USAF Airman Heritage Museum and other heritage-related activities in preserving and honoring the history and heritage of enlisted Airmen & Guardians.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Emerging through the fog of COVID, I am happy to announce that the Foundation has started the transition into elements of a "New Normal" where we are more committed, better prepared, significantly stronger, and extremely focused on the mission, vision, values, and guiding principles.

The "normal" we use to know does not exist. We realized in 2022 that creativity, innovation, and forward thinking was necessary to pivot in the most appropriate direction. Although it felt unnatural at the time, the Foundation Board Members, Committee Members, and volunteers have shown a greater level of agility and flexibility in the way we look toward the future while maintaining focus on staying true to the mission, vision and cause. These efforts have ensured the Foundation's support of the dream remains an effort worth being a part of as we reaffirm our commitment to supporting the Airman Heritage Experience including the Airman Heritage Museum, the Airman Heritage Training Complex, additional heritage-related activities, and the Learning Center, coming soon to two locations on JBSA - Lackland and Port San Antonio.

The Foundation is focused on and passionate about preserving and honoring the history of enlisted Airmen and Guardians, both past and present. These stories are singularly unique and as different as a fingerprint. We are grateful for all those who have shared and continue to share their journeys with us. We want to continue to tell these stories, share them, and celebrate these important moments. This is why we continue to ask each of you to help us "Build the Dream."

Timothy Dickens
Foundation President

The Great Texas Air Show

Volunteers showcased uniforms over different periods while mannequins and artifacts were displayed in the hangar at JBSA - Randolph.

JBSA USAF 75th Anniversary Celebration

Foundation worked with the event committee to provide the centerpiece of attention during the celebration through cultivated vignettes.
